EXPERIMENT 6

Simulate the lifecycle stages for UI design using the RAD model and develop a small interactive interface using Axure RP

AIM:

To simulate the lifecycle stages of UI design using the RAD (Rapid Application Development) model and develop a small interactive user interface using Axure RP.

PROCEDURE:

RAD (Rapid Application Development) is a software development methodology that emphasizes quick development and iteration of prototypes instead of long planning cycles. It is suitable for UI-intensive applications.

Phase 1: Requirements Planning

This phase identifies project goals, user needs, and system features.

4. Order confirmation

Phase 2: User Design

Wireframes and UI prototypes are created using Axure RP.

Screens designed:

- Home page
- Product listing
- Product details
- Checkout page
- Order confirmation page

Interactions added using Axure prototype mode.

Phase 3: Construction

Interactive prototype created using Axure.

- Navigation added between screens
- Home → Categories → Details → Cart → Checkout → Confirmation
- Dynamic transitions simulated
- Prototype tested using preview
- Checked navigation ,Buttons.

Phase 4: Cutover

Final UI prepared and exported.

- Prototype finalized
- Preview tested
- Ready for deployment
- Documentation prepared

Users trained to use interface.

RESULT:

The lifecycle stages of UI design using the RAD model were successfully simulated and an interactive interface was developed using Axure RP.
The prototype included Home, Categories, Product Details, Cart, Checkout, and Order Confirmation screens connected with interactions.
